NATIONAL GUARD IS STRONGLY REPRESENTED

Forty Applicants Were Not Selected - Fortunate Ones Include All Lines of Business

One hundred representative men, from all islands, all races and all occupations were selected by the army authorities for the officers' training camp at Schoffeld Barracks, which opens August 27, the list of names being announced yesterday. There were about forty unlucky candidates.

The list includes white Americans, Japanese; Chinese and Hawaiian citizens. Residents of all four counties are included and there are eight sergeants of the regular army in the list.

Onhu, inclusive of both Honolulu residents and residents of the outside districts, is represented by sixty-eight names, while from Hawaii there are six, Maui seventeen and Kauai four. Seventeen Guardsmen

The influence of the national guard is indicated by the fact that in the Honoiseled by the fact that in the ho-noisele list are seventeen guardsmen or ex-guardsmen. Many officers of out-side regiments, including Col. J. D. Easton of the Second Hawaiian Infan-try, are also present in the list. It is sinted that very few guardsmen who applied for the camp were turned down.

Practically the entire assistant staff of the experimental station of the Ha-waiian Sugar Planters' Association will be in the camp, this institution be-ing represented by four assistant agri-culturists, one assistant chemist and one assistant entomologist, or six in Practically every important business house of Honolulu will have a reprehouse of Honolulu will have a repre-sentative in the camp, some more than one, and others again with three or four apiece. Army Investigators Give Medical Reserve Officer Certificate of Good Conduct

That, despite the alleged death bed statements of the late Florence Berg, nurse, who died as a result of a criminnurse, who died as a result of a criminal operation, there is no evidence to show that Capt. John B. Ludy, Medical Reserve Corps, United States Army, acted other than honorably towards the dead girl is the official decision, of ficially amnounced, by the department inspector of the Hawnian Department. "Nothing damaging to Captain Ludy's reputation can be proved," says a statement of the department inspector prepared for publication, while those military authorities who have gone into the ense have "a strong belief" that Captain Ludy "is wholly innocent of misconduct is relation to this unfortunate girl". The department inspector recommends that his ment inspector recommends that his findings be made public "in view of the damage to his (Captain Ludy's) reputation that the publicity given to the case has caused."

the case has caused."

The official statement, given out at army headquarters yesterday morning, and dated yesterday, is:

After Thorough Investigation

"The conclusions of the department inspector as the result of a thorough investigation of the case of Captain John B. Ludy, Medical Beserve Corps, in connecction with the death of Miss. Berg are given in the following letter transmitting the report of investigation to the department commander. The conclusions reached and opinious expressed by the Inspector have been approved by the commanding general:

gation is submitted: First come the statements and sworn testimony of witnesses available. Second, a brief summary of the evidence.

No Positive Evidence

'2. My conclusions are that the evidence is not positive but only circumstantial, and that this circumstantial evidence is in favor of Captain Ludy's innocence. Certainly there is nothing on which he could be convicted by a court of any crime, military, civil, or criminal.

"3. I therefore recommend that he be so informed, and that, in view of the damage to his reputation that the publicity given to the case has caused, a statement be made and published in the press to the effect an exhaustive investigation has been made and that there is nothing that has been developed to prove that Cap-tain Ludy has ever acted toward the-late Miss Plorence Berg in any other numer than that worthy of an hon-orable gentleman. And furthermore, that the evidence leads not only to a conclusion that nothing damaging to Captain Ludy's reputation can be proved, but also to a strong belief by the military authorities that Captain Ludy is wholly innocent of misconduct in relation to this unfortunate girl."
